Battisons, April 14 .- The Richmond Whig of yesterday contains little of importance, it announces the arrival of Gen. Lee the night provious . The Whig publishes the oath of Allegiance which it says citizens will be required to swear and subscribe to. The Provost Marshaws office would is crowded with people anxious to take the eath and the only question among citizens.

The Special to the Commercial, dated Washington 14th, says it is believed here in certain quarters, the snovement for the return of Virginia to the Union covered an effort of States rights politicians of that State to obtain possession of the State government. The order for the reduction of the army has spread consternation among political Generals who, it is said are to be the first thrown overboard.
